Factory Anthem

Faithful and true-hearted, let us cheer for our new high
We revere her and defend her, and her colors proudly fly.
We will stand for her united, of her deeds we gladly tell.
Her colors streaming, glad faces beaming;
So here's a cheer for her that we all love so well.

Chorus:

Joyous and ever loyal, let us boost for our new high.
Let every heart sing, let every voice ring.
There's no time to grieve or sigh.
It's ever onward, our course pursuing,
May defeat ne'er our ardor cool;
But united we will boost for her,
Our New High School.

School Congress

Mr. Ted Rupert is serving his first year on the Board. He is a successful farmer and lives two miles west of Spencerville.

Mr. Francis Failor is also serving his first year. He has returned to his veterinary practice and resides at South Pearl Street.

Mr. Harmon Wright, the president, has been a member of the Board for three years. His farm is located south of Spencerville in Salem Township. He specializes in cattle and is an active member of many organizations.

Mr. S. C. Lanning, the clerk, is the manager of the local Cooperative Elevator. He resides three miles southwest of Spencerville. This is his fifth year of service on the Board.

Mr. Ora Leis, the vice-president, is an employee of the Ohio Power Company in Lima. This is his third year of service on the Board. His residence is on Sixth Street.

Transportation

There are nine busses which gather the rural pupils of our school district one of which is from Jennings Township, Van Wert County.

The mechanic is Loren Evans.

The bus drivers are:

Number 2—Rev. Ramaker

3—Lowell Evans

4—Mr. McDorman

5—Mr. Shobe

6—Mr. Shackelford and Rev. McNelly

8—Mr. Collins

9—Mr. Sakemiller

10—Rev. Abrams and Mr. Hausser

3 (Jennings)—Vaughn Shaffer

Our mechanic and bus drivers have done an excellent job throughout this school term and we wish to thank them for their good work.

Dedication

We, the graduating class of 1946, wish to dedicate our annual to Dwight Miller, a member of our class, who has not been with us for the past year owing to a serious illness.

Appreciation

For the help, effort, and guidance Mrs. Bowers put forth during our junior year we wish to express our sincere appreciation. She was with us only one year, but she did so much for us in that one year that we take this opportunity to express our thanks.

Class Memorial

We, the graduating class of '46, consider it a great privilege to be able to leave a memorial—a gift to the school—in order that the under classmen and teachers will never forget us. Some may ask, "Why spend all this money for others? Is it merely for tradition?" No, our class realizes what school has meant to us and we want to show our appreciation by leaving this, our memorial—the stage curtains.

The curtains are beautiful black velvet. In the center are the white initials S. H. S. Although the curtains for the side windows were purchased by former graduating classes, the entire cost of the stage curtains was paid by the present Senior Class. It took plenty of work to obtain this much money but it was accomplished with fun and play along with the work. The money was raised by the following methods: a playnight, which was called "Leap Night" because it was an event of February 29, proved very successful and we as Sophomores made $275 profit under Mrs. Sarka's guidance and also a paper drive which brought us $75. This memorial was given in the spring of 1944.

The Senior Class sponsored a dance March 29, 1946, and the money, which was made was donated toward the building of the War Memorial Field.

Altogether we gave Spencerville High School the stage curtains and one hundred ten dollars, which went toward the Memorial Field. We feel it a great honor to leave this much to the school.

We wish to thank everyone that helped us to earn it—the memorial and the donation presented to our good old Alma Mater by the graduating class of '46.

A Little Honey

Mrs. Minton portrayed a very busy wife and mother who insisted on living every one else's life. Diana decided to listen to her grandmother because her mother hadn't coached her to an advantage. She was not the kind of girl Tom, her boyfriend, expected her to be.

Mrs. Tyler, the Widow, enjoyed the company of Roger, Mrs. Minton's husband. Albert, the boy next door, and Jerry had trouble of their own, but unknowingly added to Diana's. Scoots added interest with Pegasus, her frog, and also caused the cook to be on a rampage. Grandma had her own troubles with the nurse. The Sure Shot exterminator man was called. He found wood ticks in the house.

Grandma decided, "You can't catch flies with sand paper, you have to have some stickum and 'A Little Honey'".

Easy Money

It tells the story of two impulsive students at the University of Southern California, who decide to marry and live happily ever after. But something goes amiss with their plans for they are no sooner enjoying the bliss of matrimony when in pops Sidney Holbrook's father to pay them a visit. He is astounded at finding a lovely girl in the house and of course an explanation is in order. Claire explains that she is the sister of Sidney's house-mate, Petey Dingle, and that the lovely house belongs to Petey. After frantically trying to find someone to become Petey Dingle, it falls to the lot of Claire herself to impersonate the eminent Petey—and what a commotion she causes! Claire no sooner becomes the handsome boy when her mother walks in to spend the weekend. Frantically she switches from boy to girl and the situation causes the greatest hilarity. Suddenly Sidney's Uncle John—Stephen Holbrook's brother—appears from Hawaii to see Sidney's new wife. Uncle John has been the financial mainstay of the young married couple and has come through handsomely when Sidney informed him of the marriage. John and Stephen Holbrook have not spoken to each other for fifteen years and now they meet. With Uncle John waiting to greet Sidney's wife—and Claire frantically trying to keep her identity a secret from Sidney's father—and Claire's mother demanding all sorts of explanations, you can imagine what a dilemma Claire is in.

President	Bill Britton
Vice-President	Mary Strayer
Secretary-Treasurer	Idora Jones
Librarian	Ruthela Wagner
Assistant Librarian	Frederick Black

The Freshman and Sophomore Chorus had 70 voices in it this year, under the direction of Miss McManus. The chorus has participated in several programs during the year. In February our chorus, the Junior and Senior chorus, and the band participated in an assembly. In the spring the group represented S. H. S. in the Eisteddfod. The final program of the year was the chorus for the Baccalaureate.

Coach

The team of Spencerville High School was very proud to have Mr. Shackelford as their coach this year. He had coached at Spencerville in previous years, moved away last year, but came back to us this year. He has showed the qualities of a good coach. He was always behind his boys whether they were winning or losing. The class of "46" wish "Shack" and the future stars the best of luck.

Cheerleaders

Our cheerleaders this year have been exceptionally outstanding. Their precision and original ideas of working out the yells have done much in spiring the atmosphere of the large crowds. Throughout the year Maxine, Joan, and Mary Lou have shown us their interest, steadiness, and their fine co-operation among the student body. I am sure we all agree they have been tops.

Varsity Basketball

The boys this year were very enthused when basketball practice began. A large number came to the first practice to find out who the coach had selected to remain on the team for the season.

The team practiced very diligently throughout the year and was faithful in attending practices. There were five lettermen back from last year and our chances looked good. We had our doubts about some of the stronger teams of the county but still we had hopes.

Our first game was with New Knoxville, a new team added to our season's play. They defeated us by a small score of 25—20. We then won 4 straight games, winning from York, Gomer, Lafayette, and Shawnee respectively. We lost our next three games, two to Elida and one to Beaverdam. After that we won three, lost three and won the last two. We were tied with Gomer for second place in the county league.

The draw for the tournament left Spencerville idle the first night of play with the bye. Our first game of the tournament was with Elida and we lost with chances of being runner up we played Gomer only to lose, ending our basketball season.

We were proud of our team for the sportsmanship they showed during the entire year. To the team next year, we wish you luck.

This year's reserves came forth with a very successful year. The group showed interest in its team from the beginning of the season to the end. During the year the team won 14 of its 16 games, which is a better record than last year's reserves had. They were at the top of the league in the reserve teams of the county. To the reserves this year and varsity of next year, good luck.

Junior High Basketball

The Junior High team had a very successful year during the season's play. The team won nine of its eleven games, losing only one game in the schedule of games before the tournament. In the tournament, Spencerville was defeated after a hard fought game with Perry. We know you boys will be a success as future reserves and varsity players.

The ball club had an average season, winning two of four games. Going into the tournament, which was played at Gomer, we defeated Elida, the favorite to win the tournament, our first game. We then played Harrod and were beaten three to two. This ended our chances of winning the tournament. We considered it a good season even, though we didn't get the championship.

Besides having both spring and fall wiener roasts the Freshmen took four class trips, three of which were local. These three included a tour of the Spencerville light plant, the telephone office, and Wierwille's Furniture Factory and the telegraph office. While at the telegraph office we went through a passenger train that had stopped for water.

Our last and longest trip was to Cincinnati on May 4th. We stopped for awhile at Ft. Ancient and then journeyed on to Cincinnati where we took in the many sights of the city.

Seven plays were combined to make three assemblies which were given in April by our English classes.

Among the many other activities enjoyed by members of the class were basketball games, activity nights, and F.F.A. skating party.

Our sponsors for the year were Miss Fritz and Miss Arters.

The year began with the enrollment of 52 pupils in the sophomore class. As time went on, some withdrew and others enrolled. At the close of the year we had an enrollment of 53.

We held our annual freshman sophomore wiener roast on September 28, 1945. This occasion was a very enjoyable one. On March 1, 1946, we held a play night which consisted of basketball games, a cake walk, and a grand march. This evening was both enjoyable and prosperous.

On May 11, our class, for the first time, took an educational trip all through Ohio. This day was an enjoyable one for everyone and we are looking forward very much to the ones we will take our next two years.

Now at the end of the year, we wish to thank our sponsors, Mrs. Sarka and Mrs. Shaffer, for the help and guidance they have given us during our sophomore year.

The first day of this year found 48 juniors starting out their eleventh year in high spirits.

The first big event of the year was the class play—"A Little Honey"—which was well given.

Then came the Junior-Senior Rabbit Supper. This was great fun for us because it was something new.

Our class was well represented in activities. Four boys received letters for basketball and many participated in the Eisteddfod.

On April 27, we, for our first time, had the privilege of taking an educational trip. The highlight of this trip was Detroit and Canada.

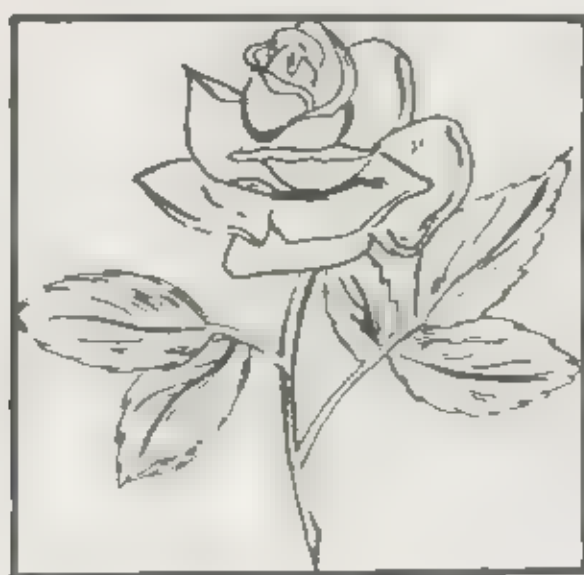

And the last thing of the year was the prom, which ranked first in social events of the year. This, we are proud to say, was sponsored by our class with the helping hand lent us by our sponsors, Mrs. Garwick and Mr. Hausser. To them we express our thanks.

Editorial

Taking Advantage Of What You Have

There comes a time in everyone's life when he thinks that he is making the best of his opportunities and therefore doesn't heed advice. This stage generally comes during the time a person is in school. I know from personal experience that it is a lot of fun to throw erasers and have other joys which a schoolboy or girl does. I realize now, and probably will realize it more than ever as I grow older, that I was only hurting myself. The purpose of this editorial is not to advocate perfect students, because everyone enjoys fun, even the teachers. A teacher enjoys a little fun in a classroom just the same as anyone else; but when the fun interferes with the job they are hired to do, that is the time they have to put a stop to it.

Education can be judged on the basis of money. Each year it costs the taxpayers $125.00 per pupil. If one buys some new clothes, he does not throw them away after wearing them a few times, does he? He tries to get his money's worth out of them. One might say, "Well, what good will Latin and history do me in real life?" When one takes these subjects, he not only learns the subjects but also learns how to study. This is one of the important reasons for school. It has been proved that, on an average, a person who has graduated from high school learns new things much faster and easier than someone that hasn't had much schooling.

To sum up the things I am stressing in this article, try just a little harder to take advantage of the chance your parents and other taxpayers have given you in the form of public school.

Robert Moorman

Class History

Approximately 12 years ago, 45 little boys and girls, all dressed up, were anxiously awaiting the beginning of their school careers. Little did they realize that from that class 20 would be here to graduate this year. But they did not foresee all the changes and disappointments they would have to go through before they finally graduated.

Under the capable instruction of Miss Wright we were soon promoted and the years rolled swiftly by. It seemed as though there was much activity, with most of us taking part in the operettas and other activities of the grade school. To some it seemed as though the years flew by and then it was time to go out to the high school and start something that was entirely new to us. Courses were selected and our high school work began. Many pupils were lost in the building that first year but as far as we know, everyone has been accounted for to date.

Our freshman year began with 79 members. This year we enjoyed our annual wiener roasts and our boys were starting to take part in some sports. Our sponsors for the year were Miss Fritz and Mr. Mossman.

Then followed our sophomore year, which began with 68 members. Under the supervision of our sponsors, Mrs. Sarka and Mr. McDorman, we successfully sponsored a paper drive and a leap night for which the proceeds went for the purchase of new curtains for the front stage, which we left as our memorial. This year for the first time some of our class were given the honor of singing in the Eisteddfod. Some of the sophomores were also chosen to serve at the Junior-Senior Reception. This year our boys were becoming outstanding in basketball and some of our class received letters in this field.

Then came our junior year, which began with 64 members answering roll call, and before long the activity of school life had begun again. First was the rabbit supper, and then the class play, which was a great success. Through the year we went until we came to the main event, our reception. This gala occasion was very successful, and it was reported that everyone had a wonderful time. This year our boys were distinguishing themselves in basketball and several received letters. Six juniors were given the honor of attending the county honor banquet at Spencerville. A good time was had by all. Mr. Hausser and Mrs. Hardesty were our class sponsors this year. So much for this year and on into our last.

Our senior year opened with 53 members answering "Here." Before long came the annual rabbit supper to brighten our lives and we were soon launched into the whirl of school activities again. The seniors did very well in basketball this year and six boys received letters. Our annual went out very well and everyone cooperated to the best of his ability. This year we tried to publish a school paper every three weeks and it turned out that it worked very well. During the school year the seniors also took two trips—one to Columbus and one to Detroit and Canada. The seniors sponsored a dance in the spring for the benefit of the war memorial. The class play was held in the spring and it went over very well. Here it is again time for the reception and the school year is drawing to a close. The reception was a big hit, with everyone having a grand time. Thanks to the juniors. Now, what's this? Time for baccalaureate and commencement. Why, it can't be . . . It seems as though we have only been here a very short time. So each senior proudly stands and receives his diploma. Now the alumni banquet is over and the book entitled "Class History of 1946" is silently closed.

Creta Koenig

Joe Griffin Esley

"Jo", the quiz kid of the class, is short and talkative very well liked, and has a keen sense of humor. Usually drives around with Joe Becker. Stands up for what he thinks is right—and usually is.

Valedictory

Friends, Parents, Teachers, and Members of the Board of Education:

We, the Senior Class of 1946, are graduating tonight through the efforts of the people of this community and we hope we have given and will continue to give something worth while in return. A community such as this does not just happen or sprig up overnight. It is the result of years of hard work and sacrifice and it is our privilege to enjoy the fruits of this labor. This community exemplifies the American way of life. Its people share common rights, interests, and privileges in a way unknown outside of the United States. From the very beginning, through the home, the church, and the school, we have been taught to believe in and to respect the efforts and ideals of those who have established Our Way.

Today our community has united for a common undertaking. Forty-two organizations and many individuals have banded together to establish a living memorial for the veterans of World War II. A living memorial - how much that means! Monuments grow old and are forgotten, but something that is put to good use is never forgotten. It will be a constant reminder of the terrible event which caused so many men to give up their normal lives to fight an alien enemy. It will be a reminder of those boys who gave all they had so that we might live in peace. It will remind us that it must not happen again. It is our responsibility that it shall not happen again.

Some time ago several of the citizens of our community realized the need for a suitable memorial. They did not think the Honor Roll was enough to honor our veterans. It was discussed over and over, and finally a committee was appointed to look into the situation and to prepare plans for the future. Several ideas were proposed but it was not an easy task to decide on a definite plan for many things had to be considered. It had to be something which would benefit the whole community because it was to be its contribution which would pay for it. It had to be something which the veterans approved, for they were the ones to be honored. It was not easy to get the opinions of the boys in service, for they were still fighting a war, but through letters and from those boys who did get home some ideas were obtained. The committee, after careful consideration, agreed that the proposed memorial should be an outdoor recreational center for all ages of people. Several sites were selected for investigation. It soon became apparent that the ground adjacent to the high school to the south would be the most suitable. A lighted football field, lighted baseball and softball diamonds, a playground for children, and a picnic area were to be the major facilities of Memorial Field as it was to be called.

VALEDICTORY (Continued)

The major problem of financing it remained. The cost was carefully estimated and a goal of twenty-five thousand dollars was set. Work was promptly begun. Each of the forty-two organizations was asked to sponsor some form of activity to raise money. Plans were formulated to solicit each of the one thousand families for individual contributions. In addition all the alumni were to be contacted. Twenty-five thousand dollars is a lot of money, but it is a small sum when it is compared to what this community has paid for war. If our nation as a whole would have spent as much in building facilities such as these, as it did for waging war, it could have scattered twelve million such institutions throughout the world. We would have much more to show for our investment than the ravages of war. Money which is given for the memorial is not lost. It will bring to you greater dividends than almost any other investment you could make.

During most of this preliminary planning little was heard from the veterans themselves. Would they support the plan wholeheartedly? Would they have any changes to suggest? These were questions that had been asked. They were soon answered. The veterans became its most ardent supporters, but they brought ideas with them. They had seen war and they hated it. They do not want to see it again. Along with this building program should go a definite plan of education. The causes of war must be taught so that the ignorance which breeds war will no longer be a factor. The school alone cannot teach this, the whole community must help. This may be our last opportunity; we must not fail!

Many hours have been spent in the planning of the Memorial Field for which there has been no pay. Much has been done but much more still remains to be done. There has been much opposition, but like all good things it has risen above it all. Always there are those who "don't care" even though they will enjoy the things brought forth by the efforts of those who "do care". Disinterest cannot defeat a thing as long as there are persons who are interested and who work toward a goal, whether it be easy or hard to attain. Memorial Field is that way; there is a goal.

As we give way to the Seniors of 1947 we do not wish to say goodbye. Goodbye is too final. Instead we wish to say to you and to the faculty that we hope we have won a permanent place in your memories. We will either stay on in the community or take our places in other ones like this. The community in which we live will be what we, as citizens, make it. All along the way we will remember that—

"If you give to the world the best you have;
The best will come back to you."

Joe Griffin Easley

Salutatory

Parents, Faculty, Friends—We, the Class of 1946, welcome you to our graduation. Through your combined efforts we reach the end of our high school training tonight. We wish to thank you for your support and for your interest in our education and activities.

You have provided many opportunities for us throughout all our school years. I would like to make a brief review of some of the things that have been available to us in the last six years. Our varied course of study in the seventh and eighth grades gave us some idea of what we were capable of doing and a fundamental understanding and foundation for the different courses of study which were provided for us in high school. Upon entering the ninth grade we were allowed a choice of one of four different courses. They were academic, commercial, general, and vocational. These courses have been designed to educate and prepare everyone along the lines in which he is most interested and capable.

The academic course has been planned for the students who wish to continue their education; for it prepares them to enter college, nurse's training, or any other school of higher learning. This course is a little different from the academic course which was offered a few years ago. Besides advanced math, advanced science and Latin, which used to be the regular academic subjects, the students are offered industrial arts for the boys and home economics for the girls.

The commercial course is designed for pupils who are interested in commercial work in the business world. It gives them basic training in this field and prepares them for more specialized training.

The general course is provided for the students who will end their formal education upon their graduation from high school. The purpose of this course is to give students all the possible practical knowledge.

The vocational course is particularly important to us—a farming community—for it is especially planned for our future farmers and home makers. Through their studies in this course the students are prepared for a more complete and useful life on the farm and in the home. The Future Homemakers of America and the Future Farmers of America are two student organizations which have been built through the classes in this course which have been extremely helpful in providing opportunities for teaching students to work together and to enjoy the fellowship of their group. They have had to develop their organizations to produce certain rules and requirements, and to exercise parliamentary procedure. This training will certainly help them to make their places in the community and to become more worthy citizens.

Along with F.H.A. and F.F.A. there are other organizations. Inter-scholastic basketball and baseball have been provided for the boys. Recently Activity Nites have been developed by the students. The school paper and the annual give students training in journalism and finance. We have been offered elective subjects including band, orchestra, and chorus.

We have taken educational trips which are planned and scheduled to coincide with our studies.

All these activities help round out the individual socially while he is gaining his more material knowledge.

Spencerville High School's standards are high. We are recognized by the State of Ohio as a First Grade School. Since 1941 we have belonged to the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The purpose of this association is to establish and maintain a high standard of schools. We can be very proud of our school's rating.

You—our teachers, our parents, our Board of Education, the citizens of our community, and all of you—have provided this school for us and for future graduating classes. But you have not merely provided—people throughout the community have given us their support and encouragement in all our endeavors, which could not have been successful without their help. Our graduation is not only the reaching of our goal, but it is your accomplishment also.

We are indeed glad to welcome you and to extend to you our thanks.

Ruth Fritz

Class Prophecy

I sat gazing into my crystal ball one sunny afternoon. Whom did I see? None other but one of my fellow classmates. This gave me the idea to call upon the rest of them. So here goes.

Behold a great building appeared. Yes, it was a hospital. I saw the head doctor who was Robert Ayers and his assistants were Irene Fryer and Joan Leis.

Next there appeared a large farm located somewhere near the little town of Spencerville. On this farm lived Joan Bover, the former Joan Gossard.

The scene changed and the little town lay before me. I stopped before the newspaper office and found Juanita Bowers the editor, Peggy Davis, the proofreader, and Darrel Keck, the typesetter. Their paper, we hear, is wonderful.

I moved to a different section to find several engineers at work. The head boss was Joe Easley and the others were Robert Moorman, Joe Becker, Harold Moorman, and Gerald Kohli. Some of the general workmen were Wayne Potts, Robert Carr, and John Ortega.

Well, this is only a few of them. Next the crystal ball took me to a much larger town to get something to eat. I came upon a small place marked the Coffee Shoppe. I entered and there I found behind the counter Creta Koenig. She was the owner of the place. Betty Briggs was one of the waitresses. It seemed like old times when we used to go to the Coffee Shop in Spencerville. Creta told me that if I would stay there for a while probably some of the other old classmates would be in. She had just finished saying this when Phyllis McCray walked in. Phyllis is a private secretary and with her were Maxine Roberts and Mary Lou Calver. They all work at the same place.

Just a little west of Spencerville are two very nice farms. In fact they are joined together. On these farms live two girls as we formerly knew as June Bowersock and Naomi Oenlhof. They were always close friends in school and they decided to live near each other after their marriage.

The next scene I journeyed to Lima. I went to one of the big plants and was met there by one of the head men. This was none other than Robert Brooks. He told me that there were other of the classmates employed there. Bill Evans was manager of the top floor. I went to the office building and upon entering found Betty Straver as the receptionist. Talking to her was Mrs. Brooks or better known to all as Mary Foster. Secretaries in the offices were Madge Mark, Mary Lou Parkison, and Betti Patterson.

After leaving there I took a stroll down Main Street and I came upon Betty's Beaute owned and operated by Betty Fissel. I entered and found Betty giving Ruth Fritz a finger wave and under the dryer sat Lillian Severns. Ruth told me that she was a teacher at the grade building and Lillian was the school secretary.

I left and I walked a few blocks when I came upon an automobile sales place. The sign read "George and Pete's Cars." I thought that these names sounded very familiar so I entered and saw coming across the floor with his heel plates clicking Irvn Strayer. After recognizing me he called George and we had a very nice visit. They told me that in a few minutes they were to have a prospect for a new car. I should wait because I knew the people. After talking a while I looked up and just then, who should be entering the door but Mr. and Mrs. Homer Montfort. You will remember Mrs. Montfort as Delphene Kolter. They were both looking very well and they invited me out to their house for dinner that evening. I accepted but told them that I still had a lot more people to see.

I left the town and turned toward the country. I stopped at several farms. The owners were David Jenkins and Norman Hager. They were raising a new breed of hogs. There was a large farm owned by the three musketeers—Jack Whithing, Joe Rohrbach, and Bill Pflueger. The other farm owners were Charles Metzger, Dwight Miller, and Mirth Carnes.

A railroad ran close to these farms and the boys informed me that a train would soon go through with an engineer that I would know. So in a short time the train appeared. The engineer was Dwaine Grear. I talked with him for a short time.

As I crossed the tracks I came to a farm on which June Whetstone had recently moved. Martha Roeder was visiting her that day. She also lives on a farm close around there. They informed me that Nell Jean Trippy was married and lived in a town some distance from there.

I left and went back to town. As I walked down the street I came upon a bakery owned by Leona Rider. Carolyn Simindinger was the main clerk. Lois Whetstone had a job as a secretary for a real estate agent next to the bakery.

As I glanced at my watch I realized that the day was gone and it was time that I showed up at the Montfort home. When I reached there, Delphene informed me that there was to be another guest for dinner—Lavon Ramaker, a teacher in the grade school.

After spending an enjoyable evening with them, I left to return to a good night's rest. I was very glad to see all of my classmates and I hope that it won't be that long before I see them again.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1946, having decided that life under the present conditions is unbearable, do hereby make this our last will and testament.

To the teachers we will the following:

Mr. Branstetter—"A year without extra vacations because of the weather."

Mr. Hausser—"Two sides to every question."

Mr. Shackelford—"An unbeatable football team for next year."

Mr. Collins—"A new school bus."

Mr. McDorman—"A bigger shop with plenty of equipment."

Mr. Riker—"More work from the agriculture boys."

Miss Decmer—"Laws banning the manufacture of Double Bubble Gum."

Mrs. Garwick—"A shorter drive to school."

Mrs. Sarka—"More assemblies and activity nights."

Miss Arters—"A real live man."

Miss Fritz—"More studious Latin students."

Miss Purdy—"A cafeteria line."

Mrs. Shaffer—"A quiet I.C.S. class."

Miss McManis—"A group of honest-to-goodness music students."

To the juniors we will the following:

Joe Neidhardt—"Robert Ayres' high scholastic record."

Herbert Boyer—"Joe Becker's corny jokes."

Patricia Hanley—"Juanita Bowers' school duties."

June Oackes—"June Bowersock's job at Pohlmanns."

Joe Richards—"Betty Briggs' Pontiac driving ability."

Don Metzger—"Robert Brooks' chewing gum."

Robert Leffel—"Mirth Carnes' long lane."

Jim Jarvis—"Robert Carr's driving ability."

Joan Richards—"Mary Culver's Conant drawl."

Peggy Clay—"Peggy Davis' love of tests."

Ted Koenig—"Joe Eisley's studious habits."
Junior Seewer—"Bill Evans' taste for clothes."

Jokes

"This dress is rather long for me. Do you have anything shorter?"

"No, I'm sorry I don't," replied the salesman. "May I suggest that you try the collar department."

The Scotch chemistry professor was demonstrating the properties of various acids. "Watch carefully," he instructed. "I am going to drop this two-shilling piece into this glass of acid. Will it dissolve?"

"No, sir," spoke one student very promptly.

"Correct. Now explain to the class why it won't dissolve."

"Because," came the answer, "if it would, you wouldn't drop it in."

Old Lady: "You don't chew tobacco, do you, little boy?"

Newsboy: "No, mam, but I kin give you a cigarette."

He: "Look at that homely woman."

She: "Remember, beauty is only skin deep."

He: "Yeh, and if she was my wife, I'd skin her."

The city girl asked a dairyman why cream was so much more expensive than milk. "It's the cows' fault, ma'am," was the explanation. "They find it much harder to sit on the small bottles."

"He's just like a piece of lace."

"How so?"

"Usually find him running around a skirt."

Betty: "Did you have a nice time at the party last night?"

Joan: "So they tell me—so they tell me."

"Have you heard the latest Ford joke?"

"Have I heard it? Say, man, I bought it!"

"But, daddy, Johnny has character. You can read it in his eyes."

"Then, Joan, I've just blackened his character!"

Collins (taking up quiz paper): "Why the quotation marks on this paper?"

Sonny: "Courtesy of the man on my left, sir."

Joe E.: "Women bore me to tears."

Joe B.: "I can't get a date either."

Mr. Hausser: "What becomes of all those love triangles?"

Jerry K.: "Most of them turn out to be wrecktangles."

Epitaph: "Here lies an atheist—all dressed up and no place to go."

Mary: "I always wondered where all the Brookses came from."

Bob: "Did you find out?"

Mary: "Yes, today I found 'The Brooks Manufacturing Company.'"

George: "Bill's awfully absent-minded, isn't he?"

Pete: "Why?"

George: "Why, the other night he was driving his parents over a lonely road and when they came to a particular spot, before he knew it, he had parked the car."

Joe: "Why did you come to the game drunk?"

Jack: "See two games for the price of one."
